The screenshot shows a mobile application interface for C++ programming. On the left, there is a code editor with a file named 'main.cpp'. The code defines a 'student' class with attributes 'name', 'rollNo', 'total', and 'perc', and methods 'getDetails()' and 'putDetails()'. On the right, there is an 'Output' window showing the execution results. The output prompts the user to enter the total number of students (111), details of student 1, name (seema), and roll number.

main.cpp
4
5 #define MAX 10
7 class student
8 {
9     private:
10         char name[30];
11         int rollNo;
12         int total;
13         float perc;
14     public:
15         //member function to get student's details
16         void getDetails(void);
17         //member function to print student's details
18         void putDetails(void);
20
21 //member function definition, outside of the class
22 void student::getDetails(void){
23     cout << "Enter name: ";
24     cin >> name;
25     cout << "Enter roll number: ";

Presented by- Ms. Pai V.N

4 3/17/2020

Primary Principles of Insurance

- o Principle of Co-operation
 - Insurance is a cooperative measure for providing protection against losses as the loss arising due to mishap is divided among group of people.
 - Thus , by way of cooperative efforts a social fund is created by collecting premium and actually who bears loss is compensated.
